MANAGER'S COMMENTSMARKET REVIEW

The Singapore equity market (FTSE Straits Times index) returned -0.6% in December. Singapore's Non-oil domestic exports (NODX) rose 9.1% year over year ("YoY"), from 20.5% in the previous month. This was driven by 10.6% expansion in the non-electronics sector with strong growth in non-monetary gold, specialized machinery and primary chemical. Electronics shipments expanded at 5.2% and may continue at a more moderate pace as a result of high base and peaking inventory build-up in China. Inflation expanded 0.6% YoY with core inflation up 1.5% YoY.

MARKET OUTLOOK & STRATEGY

The US finally enacted its first major tax reform in 30 years with President Trump signing into law on 22 December. Corporate tax rates were reduced to a single rate of 21%, effective on 1 January 2018. Income tax was cut for several tax brackets with the top rate reduced from 39.6% to 37%. In the December Fed meeting, the Fed raised the fed funds target rate to 1.25% - 1.5%, and are expecting three more rate hikes in 2018. It also upgraded its assessment of the labour market and expect it to remain strong.

Moving forward, we continue to focus on companies that is equipped with strong cash flow to pay high and sustainable dividends. These dividends represent a tangible return on investment and provides a bulwark against market uncertainty.
