MANAGER'S COMMENTS

MARKET REVIEW

Global stock markets came under pressure in March 2018 on fears over escalating trade tensions. The selling has been most marked in the last 24 hours following President Trump's announcement that tariffs of USD$60bn would be imposed on Chinese imports. Japan's Nikkei 225 index suffered the steepest declines. Large exporters play a significant part in the Japanese economy and there are concerns that they could be caught up in any US-China trade war. Elsewhere, China and Hong Kong equities have unsurprisingly also borne the brunt of the selling pressure. Eurozone and UK equities have escaped the worst of the selling. EU, and others including Canada and Mexico, will be exempt from the new tariffs being applied by the US on steel (25%) and aluminium (10%). The technology supply chain is probably the most global and any trade tariff or restrictive trade practices are likely to be prima facie negative. Hence, for the month of March 2018, tech sector was heavily sold down.

FBMKLCI outperformed amid broader market weakness. This was largely driven by big-cap banks (Public Bank and Maybank) and big cap consumer products like Nestle which were sought after by foreigners and locals. The broader small- and mid-cap market has suffered from risk aversion amid risk of trade war and election uncertainty. The FBMKLCI started the month weak, after Donald Trump announced the steel and aluminum import tariff decision. The FBMKLCI rebounded, closing the day positively (+0.9%) on 12 March 2018, buoyed by consumer and oil and gas stocks as concerns on trade war waned. However, concerns over increased trade protectionism on the sudden dismissal of US Secretary of State, Rex Tillerson who is a free trade advocate led the index to decline on 15 March 2018 (-0.63%). The market recovered on continuous foreign buying over the next few days. On a MoM basis, the index closed slightly higher by +0.39%. YTD, the FBMKLCI is the best performing index.

On the economic front, the headline inflation rate slowed to 1.4% YoY in February 2018 (+2.7% in January 2018) – the lowest in 16 months. Additionally, BNM raises 2018 growth forecast to 6% from 5.5%.

MARKET OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

With US midterm elections scheduled for November 2018, there is increased incentive for President Trump to deliver on campaign pledges. There is therefore more to come. President Trump has ordered the US Trade Representative to propose a list of product tariff increases and to consider further tariffs on goods from China.

Malaysia is vulnerable in the event of a protracted trade war. Gross export accounts for approximately 73% of the Malaysian GDP in 2017. Meanwhile, electronics and electrical (E&E) goods account for 37% of Malaysia's export. In the event of a full-blown trade war between the US and China, Malaysia would likely be adversely affected, particularly the E&E sector.

As for small- and mid-cap stocks, present broad market weakness presents accumulation opportunity but caution and patience are required. Amid trade war uncertainty and rising interest rate, equity risk premium is unlikely to get any lower. As such, the days of buying high and selling higher on valuation expansion are over. We will continue to focus on fundamentals and valuation.
