MANAGER'S COMMENTS

MARKET OVERVIEW

The S&P 500 index lost 3.69% in February (total returns, in USD), as a market repricing of Fed rate hikes led to sharp rise in rates and volatility. Robust labor market data sparked the initial risk off – nonfarm payroll employment increased by 200,000 in January, while the employment rate remained steady at 4.1%, and average hourly earnings rose 0.34% month-over-month (MoM). Concerns about monetary policy tightening were further exacerbated by solid US inflation data. The core consumer price index (CPI) rose 0.35% MoM in January, its highest pace since 2005, though the year-over-year (YoY) rate remained unchanged at 1.8%. The minutes from the January 30-31 FOMC meeting were slightly hawkish, with upward revisions to the growth outlook and “most members” interpreting the recent economic data as “suggesting a modestly stronger near-term outlook”. While this was largely expected, Fed Chair Jerome Powell’s Congress testimony surprised markets with its hawkish tilt, sparking another sell-off. Chair Powell’s affirmation of the improvement in his economic outlook since the December FOMC meeting trigger speculation of potential upgrades to the “dot plot”. The best performing sectors were Information Technology, Financials and Consumer Discretionary, while the worst performing sectors were Energy, Consumer Staples and Telecommunication Services.

DISCLAIMER:

Based on the fund’s portfolio returns as at 15 February 2018, the Volatility Factor (VF) for this fund is 12.9 and is classified as “Very High”. (source: Lipper) “Very High” includes funds with VF that are more than 10.6 (source: Lipper). The VF means there is a possibility for the fund in generating an upside return or downside return around this VF. The Volatility Class (VC) is assigned by Lipper based on quintile ranks of VF for qualified funds. VF is subject to monthly revision and VC will be revised every six months. The fund’s portfolio may have changed since this date and there is no guarantee that the fund will continue to have the same VF or VC in the future. Presently, only funds launched in the market for at least 36 months will display the VF and its VC. The VC referred to was dated 31 December 2017 which is calculated once every six months and is valid until its next calculation date, i.e. 30 June 2018.

A Product Highlights Sheet (“PHS”) highlighting the key features and risks of the Fund is available and investors have the right to request for a PHS. Investors are advised to obtain, read and understand the PHS and the contents of the Master Prospectus dated 15 July 2017 and its supplementary(ies) (if any) (“the Master Prospectus”) before investing. The Master Prospectus has been registered with the Securities Commission Malaysia who takes no responsibility for its contents. Amongst others, investors should consider the fees and charges involved. Investors should also note that the price of units and distributions payable, if any, may go down as well as up. Where a distribution is declared, investors are advised that following the issue of additional units/distribution, the NAV per unit will be reduced from cum-distribution NAV to ex-distribution NAV. Any issue of units to which the Master Prospectus relates will only be made on receipt of a form of application referred to in the Master Prospectus. For more details, please call 1-800-88-3175 for a copy of the PHS and the Master Prospectus or collect one from any of our branches or authorised distributors.

The Manager wishes to highlight the specific risks of the Fund are investment manager risk, market risk, currency risk, liquidity risk, regulatory risk, risk of substantial redemption and suspension of NAV calculation or limitation or redemption payment. These risks and other general risks are elaborated in the Master Prospectus. This factsheet is prepared for information purposes only. It does not have regard to the specific investment objectives, financial situation and the particular needs of any specific person who may receive it.
