RHB SINGAPORE INCOME FEEDER FUND - SGD CLASS

The Fund aims to achieve regular income and long term capital growth by investing in one target fund, i.e. RHB Singapore Income Fund.

MANAGER'S COMMENTS*MARKET REVIEW

Singapore's MAS expects to see GDP growth closer to 3% in 2018 and moderating closer to 2.6-2.8% in 2019. The final 1Q18 GDP came in at 1.7% q-o-q and 4.4% y-o-y. 2018 core inflation is expected to be in the upper range of 1-2%. April core inflation came in at 1.3% and industrial production was better than expected at 9.1% y-o-y. Strong electronics output was the main driver.

MAS expects domestic sources of inflation to increase along with a pickup in domestic demand and faster wage growth. Also water tariff hikes, airport passenger levies and foreign domestic worker levy will support higher core inflation numbers. As expected MAS tightened the SGD stance in April.

The STI closed 5% lower in May driven by all sectors except consumer discretionary. The Singapore dollar also depreciated 0.88% m-o-m.

MARKET OUTLOOK & STRATEGY

The Target Fund Manager favours the reflationary trades such as Banks and Energy. Market expects that there will be three or four more Fed rate hikes this year and this should be supportive for the Singapore banks. In an environment of rising oil prices, the Target Fund Manager believes that the earnings recovery from this sector is not fully appreciated.
