MANAGER'S COMMENTSPORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

The Target Fund's risk profile remained flat over May and remains overweight relative to the benchmark. Importantly, the team continues to favour more measured risk-taking overall and remains broadly constructive on high yield. Otherwise, there were no significant changes to the Target Fund's investment themes or positioning in May. From a sector standpoint, the Target Fund added risk to the healthcare insurance and aerospace/defence sectors, while reducing risk in gaming and technology.

MARKET OUTLOOK AND POSITIONING

At month-end, the Target Fund maintained a large underweight to BB rated issues, an overweight to single-B rated credits and an overweight to selected CCC rated issues with improving fundamental stories or other catalysts. Importantly, the Target Fund remains underweight the higher-yielding 8%+ segment of the market, which contains a high concentration of significantly stressed assets. On the issuer front, the Target Fund's top overweights include Cheniere Energy (independent energy), Clear Channel Worldwide (media & entertainment) and The Stars Group (gaming). In addition to credit, the Target Fund Manager favoured positions in equity and equity-like (preferred and convertibles) instruments to enhance the Target Fund's total return profile. The Target Fund Manager will tactically implement hedges to mitigate this risk when markets warrant it. Generally, the Target Fund remained well diversified, with over 50 issuers and an average issuer-level position of 17 basis points, with the top 25 issuers constituting ~33% of the Target Fund.
