MANAGER'S COMMENTS

MARKET ENVIRONMENT

US dollar denominated Asian high yield bonds posted broadly flat returns in August, as coupon income offset wider credit spreads. Investor sentiment was mixed, as liquidity in onshore China improved, while negative headlines around Turkey and Argentina led to fears of contagion on other emerging market/Asian countries. In China, retail sales and fixed asset investment fell below estimates, while bank lending, exports and imports surpassed expectations in July. In key developments, China announced tax cuts for individuals and corporates, as policymakers aim to support economic growth amid ongoing trade tensions. The central bank also adjusted its methodology to calculate the Chinese yuan's daily reference rate as part of its efforts to stabilise the currency. The Indian economy expanded at the fastest pace in two years during the April–June quarter, due to strong domestic consumption and solid growth in the manufacturing sector. The pace of economic expansion in Indonesia was faster than anticipated in the second quarter, mainly due to strong growth in private consumption. In August, the Indonesian central bank raised interest rates for the fourth time since May to stabilise the depreciating rupiah and control the widening current account deficit.

TARGET FUND POSITIONING

Looking at the second half of 2018, the Target Fund Manager remains cautiously positive on the Asian high yield market. Sentiment has improved since mid-July, in light of the policy response by Chinese authorities, which aims to strike a finer balance between deleveraging and maintaining growth. Over the year to date period, there were indications of higher US inflation and interest rates. A strong US dollar also put pressure on certain emerging market countries such as Turkey and Argentina. However, Asia is generally in a better position compared to the rest of the emerging market, given strong foreign exchange reserves and proactive policies to counter the strong US dollar. Relative valuations of Asian high yield bonds compared to developed market bonds are also much more attractive than they were at the start of the year. Fundamentals of Asian issuers have remained stable on the back of robust first half results. Valuations, even after the rebound in July, are still attractive compared to developed markets.

In terms of positioning, the Target Fund has an overweight credit beta position, with a bias towards strong conviction issuers. The Target Fund Managers will continue to actively and passively add risk while managing overall liquidity. In addition to cash, the Target Fund has 10–15% market weight in short dated (<1year)/near-term callable bonds to ensure a robust liquidity profile and maintain high natural income, which also keeps overall volatility lower for the period ahead.

DISCLAIMER:

Based on the fund's portfolio returns as at 15 August 2018, the Volatility Factor (VF) for this fund is 5.2 and is classified as "Low". (source: Lipper) "Low" includes funds with VF that are above 1.9 but not more than 6.6 (source: Lipper). The VF means there is a possibility for the fund in generating an upside return or downside return around this VF. The Volatility Class (VC) is assigned by Lipper based on quintile ranks of VF for qualified funds. VF is subject to monthly revision and VC will be revised every six months. The fund's portfolio may have changed since this date and there is no guarantee that the fund will continue to have the same VF or VC in the future. Presently, only funds launched in the market for at least 36 months will display the VF and its VC. The VC referred to was dated 30 June 2018 which is calculated once every six months and is valid until its next calculation date, i.e. 31 December 2018.

A Product Highlights Sheet ("PHS") highlighting the key features and risks of the Fund is available and investors have the right to request for a PHS. Investors are advised to obtain, read and understand the PHS and the contents of the Information Memorandum dated 8 June 2015 and its supplementary(ies) (if any) ("the Information Memorandum") before investing. The Information Memorandum has been registered with the Securities Commission Malaysia who takes no responsibility for its contents. Amongst others, investors should consider the fees and charges involved. Investors should also note that the price of units and distributions payable, if any, may go down as well as up. Where a distribution is declared, investors are advised that following the issue of additional units/distribution, the NAV per unit will be reduced from cum-distribution NAV to ex-distribution NAV.
