MANAGER'S COMMENTS*MARKET REVIEW

The Target Fund Manager entered 2020 with a slightly more optimistic outlook. With the ink drying on the long awaited phase-one trade agreement, South Africa and Turkey cutting rates, and investors' near-term concerns over political stability and succession in Russia started to fade. This relatively conducive market environment was abruptly disturbed by the emergence a coronavirus in Wuhan, reversing the positive market momentum of early January as the number of cases and affected regions escalated.

Against this backdrop, the MSCI Emerging Market Equity Index fell -4.7%. Given the negative implications for Chinese economic growth, global commodity prices came under pressure which led to Brazil, Chile, Colombia and South Africa all underperforming. By contrast, Turkey recorded a positive return and outperformed as the central bank cut its headline interest rate by 0.75%, more than expected, to 11.25%.

Turning to fixed income, local denominated sovereign debt fell -1.3%, as investors sought safety in the US dollar and general risk appetite abated, where the fall in US treasury yields helped propel EM US dollar sovereign debt up 1.5%.
