MANAGER'S COMMENTS

MARKET REVIEW

The outbreak of COVID-19, declining oil prices, and fear of global economic slowdown led to global equity selloff in March 2020. The MSCI Asia Pacific ex Japan Index declined by -14.3% in that month. Domestically, Malaysia saw a change in government, global oil prices plummet and spread of COVID-19 pandemic which led to movement control order ("MCO") in Malaysia. Bank Negara Malaysia ("BNM") has also cut the interest rate and lowered the statutory reserve requirement in order to inject more liquidity into the economy. In addition, the government has also unveiled RM250bn of stimulus package or 17% of GDP to help cushion the impact of the slowing economy. The FBMKLCI closed at 1350.89 points, declined by -8.9% in the month of March 2020.

MARKET OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The financial market is still unsettled for now due to the uncertainty over the COVID-19 pandemic. The supply disruptions caused by the global lock down will result in global productions and demand slowdown. If the global lock down continues for longer period of time, it will affect corporates profitability and cash flows. The FBMKLCI is expected to remain volatile due to concerns over COVID-19 pandemic and global economic slowdown. Monetary and fiscal policies will remain accommodative at this juncture to support domestic economy. The turning point would be when the number of reported COVID-19 cases globally recedes and countries starts to lift the lock down globally.

In terms of strategy, due to the volatile domestic equity market, we will focus on stocks with strong balance sheet, cashflows and good earnings growth potential, plus accumulating good quality stocks during weakness to benefit the fund in the longer term.
