MANAGER'S COMMENTS
TARGET FUND'S PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

Moving into March, the Target Fund Manager reduces their HY exposure offshore and added to onshore Chinese government bonds. The Target Fund Manager's onshore exposure has limited their downside risk in March but more importantly, it means that 35% of their underlying portfolio has emerged through March unscathed and can now take advantage of the dislocations offshore for upside.

Post the sell-off in March, the Target Fund Manager moved away from the onshore RMB credit market, which has significantly outperformed the offshore USD Chinese credit market, into the offshore USD Chinese credit to take advantage of cheap valuations: in IG, government related credits and in HY, property.

This has allowed us to provide strong risk adjusted returns for the Target Fund Manager's investors. To capitalize on the market dislocations in the USD Chinese credit market, the Target Fund Manager has reallocated capital to USD Chinese Credit with a 71% allocation to USD Chinese Credit and a 29% allocation to RMB credit.

TARGET FUND'S POSITIONING

The underlying portfolio remains income-focused with a yield of 8% with an average investment grade rating. The Target Fund Manager sees underlying portfolio resilience and credit quality increasing in importance for investments in the coming months. The Target Fund Manager's underlying portfolio has been resilient, exhibiting low drawdowns amidst the volatility associated with the coronavirus given the diversification between the onshore and offshore Chinese bond markets. Expectations of (and room for more) policy easing in China continues to be tailwind for Chinese fixed income markets.

Loose monetary conditions in China onshore, and government effectively postponing the deleveraging agenda are keeping onshore liquidity flush. Most companies have refinanced their 2020 maturities earlier this year, this should lead to lower defaults near term.

Overall, the Target Fund Manager expects 1% defaults in China this year vs 0.8% last year. The weakest credits have defaulted in the first wave last 2 years. But the Target Fund Manager has to be mindful that defaults can still happen particularly in the weaker local SOEs so security selection is key.

Within HY:

- The exposure to energy, hotels, cruises and consumer discretionary is small in China HY unlike US HY. Furthermore, sentiment is improving onshore.
- Within Property, the underlying fundamentals of the sector have been improving since the initial lockdown implemented by the Chinese government. China property (the largest sector in Asian HY) is seeing close to 80-90% of construction activities resuming and 90-100% of sales offices reopening outside of Hubei. Property sales have been picking up in March since it bottomed in February.

Within local government credits:

- There's a wide range of credit risk (from negligible to risk close to private credit risk) which the Target Fund Manager has to assess.
- As the Target Fund Manager goes into local SOEs, LGFVs, the Target Fund Manager has to assess both the systematic importance of the entity and also the fundamentals of the corporate.

Coming out from a very volatile March, the Target Fund Manager sees underlying portfolio resilience and credit quality increasing in importance for investments in the coming months. The Target Fund Manager's underlying portfolio has been resilient, exhibiting low drawdowns amidst the volatility given the diversification between the onshore and offshore Chinese bond markets.
