MANAGER'S COMMENTS

MARKET REVIEW

A surge in new cases, especially across large tracts of the US, has raised the spectre of a second wave of COVID-19 infections. This looming threat, coupled with an equity market that had largely shrugged off the epidemic, weighed on sentiment towards the end of June 2020. US equity market advanced 2.1% during the month to finish its best quarter (2Q: 21.2%) in 35 years. Europe rose 3.9% in June 2020, Australia 6.8%, while Japan (-0.1%) stayed flat. Asia ex-Japan was up 7.9% in June 2020 (2Q: 15.8%, YTD: -5.7%).

The FBMKLCI index was struggling to stay above 1500 level during the month of June 2020 due to the absence of positive fresh leads and global negative factors that affected the sentiment of the equity market. With a confluence of negative factors like the uncertain quick global economic recovery, the resurgence of coronavirus infections worldwide, the potential uplifting of short-selling ban domestically post 30 June and political noises, the index consolidated in June 2020 after touched the high of 1,590. Meanwhile, S&P downgraded Malaysia outlook to negative from stable, with A- rating.

MARKET OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

In the absence of positive news, the equity market is likely to be volatile in the short term and will be driven by macro-economic data and geopolitical tensions. Rising US-China trade friction, the increase in the coronavirus cases in the US and EU will be the main focus in charting the direction of the equity performance besides the news of the vaccines. The domestic equity market is expected to be in favor due to the expectations of prolong low inflation and low interest rate environment. The gradual recovery in the economy and ample liquidity will also support the equity market going forward as investors are pricing in lower risks.

In terms of strategy, with the gradual recovery in the domestic economy and equity market, we will focus on stocks with strong balance sheet, cashflows and good earnings growth potential, plus accumulating good quality stocks during weakness to benefit the fund in the longer term.
