RHB ASIAN INCOME FUND MULTI CURRENCIES - GBP HEDGED CLASS

The Fund aims to provide income and capital growth over the medium to long-term^ by investing in one (1) target fund, i.e. the Schroder Asian Income.

MANAGER'S COMMENTS
MARKET OVERVIEW

Asian equities posted a strong return, led by China and Hong Kong, where Covid-19 infection rates fell. In China, positive surprises in Q2 earnings resulted in boosted sentiment, in spite of the rising tensions with the US. Malaysia, Thailand and Taiwan finished in negative territory and were the weakest index performers. In fixed income, the 10-year US Treasury yield rose 18bps, while corporate bonds outperformed government bonds.

MARKET STRATEGY AND OUTLOOK
Equity

Over the month, the Target Fund Manager added to selective REITs, including a newly listed India REIT which boosts a well-diversified portfolio of Grade-A commercial offices with strong rental collections. Another added position is the Target Fund Manager's Australia REIT, which rose strongly following the recent earnings announcement. The company's exposure to resilient sectors such as residential / neighbourhood malls, and the further diversification of the asset mix into area of growth such as logistics should continue to bring relative stability to fund flows and distributions. Elsewhere, within the Taiwan tech sector, the Target Fund Manager took profit from a semiconductor producer and switched into another player focusing on end-users computing equipment. The company recently unveiled a new line-up of gaming PCs and equipment, and the Target Fund Manager believes these new offerings should benefit from the increased consumer upgrade demands given the need for better hardware for stay-home entertainment such as gaming and video streaming. Lastly, the Target Fund Manager continues to reduce financials, through trimming a Thailand bank and closed a Singapore name. Loan growth is expected to slow on falling demand while net interest margin could also narrow given lower yields and interest rates.

The technology sector has been a clear winner during the pandemic-induced recession and the subsequent market recovery thanks to a suite of products and services that benefit from lockdowns, social distancing and working from home. But with much of the good news already priced into markets, valuations of these virtual names that have rallied strongly are definitely not cheap now, although the Target Fund Manager must also recognize that momentum can persist in the near-term and they could remain expensive for quite some time. Therefore, the Target Fund Manager continues to stress the importance of selectivity. Not every stock which have rallied hard present risks, as some are backed by actual increase in structural growth, but there are also some which rose largely due to investors' optimism and lack fundamental support. Picking the former and avoiding the latter is increasingly important in the current market environment.

Fixed Income

In fixed income, the Target Fund Manager added to several names and new issues within the Chinese real estate sector. The Target Fund Manager remains constructive on the sector given the positive structural factors, including a stable policy environment, credit easing cycle and market consolidation and development of city clusters. The Target Fund Manager also added to several existing holdings, including a Philippine fast food operator. Although operations have been affected by Covid-19, sales are expected to recover from new product and delivery initiatives, while cost improvements are also underway. The Target Fund Manager also added to a Thailand oil producer, as key commodity prices have shown signs of turnaround / stabilization. The Target Fund Manager then took profit on some Middle East government bonds following the recovery in oil prices. Overall, the Target Fund Manager kept duration largely unchanged at 2.1 years.

The Target Fund Manager's conviction in corporate credit remains on the back of the benign liquidity backdrop. However, the Target Fund Manager is also aware of increasing default risks which points to a more cautious approach to credit investing as falling government bond yields means that investors are being pushed further out the risk curve to search for income. As such, selection and diversified approach now becomes even more important for accessing the credit risk premium. Previous valuation opportunities in some neglected areas of the markets, such as Australia and Middle-east, have largely disappeared. The Target Fund Manager is likely to move back to the main-stream areas, and expect further opportunities in new issuances. The Target Fund Manager will continue to take part in selective attractive deals. Some local currency bond markets also present opportunities, as central banks in Asia are expected to remain extremely accommodative in their monetary policies.
