RHB USD HIGH YIELD BOND FUND - RM CLASS

The Fund aims to maximise total return by investing in one target fund, i.e. the BlackRock Global Funds – US Dollar High Yield Bond Fund.

MANAGER'S COMMENTS

MARKET OVERVIEW

- Per J. P. Morgan, the US HY market was down in September, totaling -0.76% for the month. High-yield bond prices decreased in September amid global economic concerns and the uncertainty surrounding Europe's pickup in virus cases, slimmer chances for another US stimulus package, and ahead of a contentious US election.
- From a ratings perspective, BB rated bonds underperformed both B and CCC rated bonds over the month of September. YTD performance is driven by BBs, outperforming both B and CCC rated bonds.
- US high yield risk premiums widened 40bps in September, representing a final period-end spread of T+519bps, a yield-to-worst of 5.78%, and an average market-weighted price of $99.54.

TARGET FUND'S MAIN PORTFOLIO CHANGES

- Broadly, there were no significant changes to the Target Fund's investment themes or positioning in September.
- The Target Fund's portfolio risk decreased over the month (beta was 0.97).
- Overall, the Target Fund continues to favor more measured risk-taking in today's environment.
- From a ratings standpoint, the Target Fund increased exposure to the B and CCC rated names and decreased exposure to BB rated names; from a sector perspective, the Target Fund added to the Midstream, Airlines, and Cable and Satellite sectors, while reducing risk in the Technology, Packaging, and Restaurants sectors over the month.

TARGET FUND'S POSITIONING

- The Target Fund's core issuer/credit biases remain centered on cash-flow views, determination of a specific catalyst, and/or idiosyncratic characteristics; top issuer overweights include Boeing (Aerospace/Defense), Altice France (Wireless), and BMC Software (Technology).
- From a credit standpoint, the Target Fund Manager remains underweight BB-rated credits and overweight select CCCs with improving credit positions or attractive yields.
- In addition to credit, the Target Fund Manager has favored positions in equity and equity-like (preferred and convertible) instruments to enhance the Target Fund's total return profile but will tactically implement hedges to mitigate this risk when markets warrant. The Target Fund Manager also hold a tactical allocation to CLOs.
- Generally, the portfolio remained well-diversified with 610+ issuers, an average issuer-level position of roughly 16bps, with the top 25 names constituting 25.41% of the portfolio.
