RHB ASIA HIGH INCOME BOND FUND - GBP HEDGED CLASS

The Fund aims to provide capital appreciation over the medium to long-term[^] by investing in one (1) target fund.

Note: [^]“medium to long-term” in this context refers to a period of between 3 – 7 years.

MANAGER'S COMMENTSPORTFOLIO STRATEGY

The Target Fund returned positively in October amid broadly tighter credit spreads. On a relative basis, the Target Fund benefited from its underweight stance in Sri Lanka sovereign bonds which have been under selling pressure since Moody's downgraded its sovereign rating in September. Meanwhile, an overweight in the Indonesia quasi sovereign sector contributed as these bonds benefitted from improved sentiment towards emerging market assets. An underweight in the India high yield commodity sector also lifted relative returns as negative news headlines on certain company dragged on the sectors' performance. Conversely, the Target Fund's underweight in the India investment grade corporate as well as policy bank bonds detracted as these names were well-bid amid improved sentiment towards emerging market assets. In terms of overall portfolio allocation, the Target Fund Manager continues to overweight the Chinese property sector, although more on an individual bond selection basis. The Target Fund Manager expects to see greater divergence in credit quality within the sector against the current uncertain macro backdrop. The Target Fund Manager is also overweight the utilities sector, particularly names from Mainland China and India given their defensive nature and solid fundamentals. On the other hand, the Target Fund Manager remains underweight markets such as Korea, Philippines and Malaysia where the Target Fund Manager finds valuations unattractive. Similarly, the Target Fund Manager is also underweight sovereign and quasi sovereign bonds. The Target Fund Manager continues to actively manage the Target Fund's duration exposure in the current volatile market environment and expect US treasury yields to remain in a range.
