MANAGER'S COMMENTS

MARKET REVIEW

The Fed surprised the market (again) in December by taking the first step toward unwinding the unprecedented stimulus by US$10 billion per month (from US$85 billion) on improved economic data. UST yields were stable as the Fed committed that its benchmark rate remain low well past the time that the unemployment rate declines below 6.5%, especially if projected inflation continues to run below the Fed's 2% target. 10-year UST closed the year at 3.03%, just marginally above September high at 2.99%; while the 5-year UST closed the year at 1.74%.

While 10-year US Treasury looks to trend higher over the course of 2014, the pace of increase is likely to be measured unlike the sharp correction experienced in 2013 as tapering was largely reflected. Fed funds target rate, currently at 0-0.25%, will remain low as the Fed seems intent on using forward guidance to keep the short rates low and well anchored.

STRATEGY

We will continue to be defensive and stay nimble in light of market volatility while overweighting on good quality high grade credits. The OSK Focus bond funds will await opportunisticall for entry points as well as participate in primary issues with attractive pricing to deploy cash selectively.

DISCLAIMER:

As this is a close-ended fund, units are no longer available for sale on the basis of the Prospectus dated 22 February 2012. Investors are advised to read and understand the contents of the Prospectus dated 22 February 2012, which has been registered with Securities Commission who takes no responsibility for its contents, before investing. Amongst others, investors should consider the fees and charges involved. Investors should also note that the price of units and distributions payable, if any, may go down as well as up. Where a distribution is declared, investors are advised that following the issue of additional units/distribution, the NAV per unit will be reduced from cum-distribution NAV to ex-distribution NAV. Any issue of units to which the Prospectus relates will only be made on receipt of a form of application referred to in the Prospectus. For more details, please call 1-800-88-3175 for a copy of the Prospectus or collect one from any of our branches or authorised distributors.

The Manager wishes to highlight the principal risk factors of the funds are credit/default risk, currency risk, interest rate risk, liquidity risk, market risk, country risk, inflation/purchasing power risk, concentration risk and fixed duration risk. These risks and other general risk are elaborated in the Prospectus.
