RHB-OSK ASIA PACIFIC FUND (formerly known as OSK-UOB ASIA PACIFIC FUND)

This Fund aims to achieve long term capital appreciation through investments in securities of companies listed or traded in emerging and developed markets.

MANAGER'S COMMENTS*MARKET REVIEW

In April, FBM KLCI remain flattish, +1.21% mom while YTD still recorded negative return, -0.35%. In the meantime, small mid cap stocks were performing better than big caps, KLCI Fledgling Index +5.43% mom and +14.38% YTD. The KLCI lacklustre trend underperformed ASEAN regional markets but outperformed North Asia peers. Within Asia region, Philippines, Indonesia and Vietnam were best performers, advanced circa +14%, +13% and 10% YTD respectively while Japan Nikkei 225, HSCEI and SHCOMP were worst performers, fell circa 11%, 9.9% and 4% YTD. Corporate earnings are relatively mixed with investors stay cautious on Emerging Markets equities. Regional geo-political tension and corporate earnings disappointment are the key risks that drive equity risk premium higher while U.S and Eurozone recovery continue to weigh on EM fund outflow.

MARKET OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

On Asia Pacific markets, reporting season witness a slight weakness in earnings with circa 39% of market cap or 123 Japanese companies reported miss consensus EPS while in Asia Pacific ex-Japan, 40% of companies by market cap or 220 companies miss consensus EPS. China and Korea dominate the misses while Taiwan leads the upgrades.

Latest HSBC China manufacturing PMI came in 48.1, a reading below 50 level indicates contraction. We envisage China macro data continue to be mixed with soft patch due to Chinese govt determination to rebalance the economy. We expect the Chinese govt will react should cyclical weakness threaten GDP growth and unemployment. EM reliance on China growth for commodities export may face headwinds in 2014. We envisage commodity producing countries equities performance to continue lag the Developed Market equities.

On local front, despite early May selloff/limit down in 3 small cap stocks due to Bursa warning of unusual activity which dampen the market sentiment temporarily, we maintain our positive view on equity market and envisage bottoming of corporate earnings downgrade and expect gradual recovery in 2H 2014. Nevertheless, Malaysia economy is expected to remain resilient. January loan growth edged up 11% yoy while inflation rate is projected to be around 3%. KLCI currently trade at 16x P/E vs FBM SmallCap Index at 11x P/E, both trade above 10-year historical average P/E but below +1SD.

On sector basis, we continue to favour tech, oil & gas, healthcare, consumer and telco while selectively bullish bias on infra related construction stocks. We foresee 2014 to be a reform year for regional economies and Malaysia govt to rollout targeted infra projects to spearhead the economy and continue its reform agenda including subsidy rationalization which augur well for the economy. Increase market volatility globally will create capital misallocation and outflow of funds from emerging markets, thus misprice securities from fundamental. We remain cognizant of prevalent risks but look into adding bombed-out good fundamental stocks to enhance alpha.

DISCLAIMER:

Based on the fund's portfolio returns as at 15 April 2014, the Volatility Factor (VF) for this fund is 10.8 and is classified as "High". (source: Lipper) "High" includes funds with VF that are above 10.6 but not more than 13.1. (source: Lipper) The VF means there is a possibility for the fund in generating an upside return or downside return around this VF. The Volatility Class (VC) is assigned by Lipper based on quintile ranks of VF for qualified funds. VF is subject to monthly revision and VC will be revised every six months. The fund's portfolio may have changed since this date and there is no guarantee that the fund will continue to have the same VF or VC in the future. Presently, only funds launched in the market for at least 36 months will display the VF and its VC. The VC referred to was dated 31 December 2013 which is calculated once every six months and is valid until its next calculation date, i.e. 30 June 2014.
