MANAGER'S COMMENTS

EQUITY MARKET REVIEW

September was another painful month for investors in both domestic and regional markets amid the heightened movements of foreign funds. Regionally, sentiments were largely affected over the concerns of China's economic health before the unrest in Hong Kong adds more headaches for the Chinese Government. The KLCI slide to its year lows as investors digested Aug's poor results season. Smaller cap stocks resumed their outperformance after last month's short breather. The KLCI ended the month 20pts or 1.1% lower to close at 1,846pts. The broader market also ended the month lower but managed to outperform the KLCI, with the FBM Emas falling 0.5% mom to 12,925pts.

MARKET OUTLOOK

October has historically been a decent month for the stock market, with the KLCI rise an average of 1.4% over the past 25 years. Recently, however, Foreign fund flows which seen as the driver for market upside have been quite erratic and the trend could persist. We, thus, doubt that the KLCI could stage a strong rally in October despite the tabling of Budget 2015 next week as the key concerns on the weak corporate earnings as well as the high household debts in Malaysia remains. We are lowering our support level to 1,830-1,825 for the month of October whilst any upward movement will see the KLCI encountering a strong resistance at the 1,860-1,870 level in October.
