MANAGER'S COMMENTSFUND REVIEW

Global New Star's NAV/unit increased by 4.4%, underperforming its benchmark's (MSCI AC World Index) gain of 0.83%. The underperformance was mainly due to country allocation, especially the fund's exposure to Malaysia.

Market Review

Global equities recovered from sharp decline in October, as investors responded positively to the prospect of increased monetary policy easing in Europe and a surprise interest rate cut in China. A dovish set of remarks from European Central Bank ("ECB") President Mario Draghi stated that policy makers need to bring inflation to target without delay and that further monetary easing could help spur the euro zone's recovery. In China, the HSBC flash PMI slipped to a reading of 50 which indicated manufacturing activity flat in November with new export orders and employment weakening. In response to a slowing domestic and global economy, the People's Bank of China ("PBoC") unexpectedly cut the benchmark interest rates for the first time in two years. The 1 year deposit rate was cut by 25bps to 2.75% and the 1 year lending rate was cut by 40bps to 5.6%. The PBoC will not consider further rate cuts until fourth quarter macroeconomic data released. In the US, S&P 500 index climbed to record high due to encouraging domestic economic releases. The economy in the US expanded 3.9% annualized rate, more than estimated in the third quarter, reflecting bigger gains in consumer spending and business investment. More jobs and cheaper gasoline are giving households the means to boost spending even further going into the all important holiday shopping season, benefiting retailers. Businesses are investing in new equipment to meet that demand, even as markets cool overseas. In Japan, the economy tipped into technical recession as the GDP shrank an annualized 1.6% in third quarter. Japan Prime Minister Shinzo Abe called an early election and delayed a second planned sales tax increase for 18 months.

Within the Asia ex Japan equity markets, Hong Kong/China and India outperformed whilst Australia and Malaysia were the detractors. The best performing markets among the ASEAN countries were the Philippines and Singapore whilst Malaysia lagged (in MYR terms).

MARKET OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The selldown in the Malaysian market was triggered by concern over crude oil price. Since Jun this year, the price of crude oil has fallen by approximately 30%. This resulted in a selldown in oil & gas related stocks, which in turn affected the whole market sentiment. Though the fund has little exposure to the oil & gas sector as we have been advising that the sector is over-valued, the reaction of the overall market affected the fund's performance.

We would analyze situations objectively rather than follow sentiment. The question that we have been asking investors is since when is a low crude oil price bad for economic growth? The answer is low crude oil IS good for economic growth, especially when the global economy (excluding the US), has yet to reach solid footing.

As for Malaysia, the decision to eliminate fuel subsidy starting from Dec 2014 is a very welcomed moved. The current low price environment made pulling this trigger possible as resistance will be minimal, considering the floated pump price is lower than the subsidy-era price. The implication towards the fiscal condition and economic mentality of the country is immense.

In our view, the challenges faced by the Malaysian market in the month are short term in nature. We are maintaining our holdings in the Fund. We continue to favour Malaysia, Indonesia and Thailand in ASEAN.
