MANAGER'S COMMENTS*MARKET REVIEW

BNM held OPR unchanged at 3.25% in the September Monetary Policy Committee ("MPC"). The pause spurred buying interest on the short to medium term of the curve. As a result, the local government bond market bullish steepened with short-end yields compressed more than long-end yields. At the close, the 3-, 5-, 7-, 10-, 15-, 20- and 30-year MGS were traded at 3.47% (August: 3.50%), 3.67% (3.68%), 3.80% (3.81%), 3.89% (3.91%), 4.21% (4.21%), 4.31% (4.30%) and 4.71% (4.64%) respectively. On the other hand, performance of the Government Investment Issues ("Gill") were rather range bound and traded higher across all tenures with the 3-, 5-, 7-, 10-, 15-year and 20-year benchmark yields transacted at 3.66% (July: 3.61%), 3.80% (3.79%), 4.00% (4.00%), 4.14% (4.14%), 4.42% (4.39%) and 4.62% (4.61%) respectively.

Corporate bond yields compressed further to almost at 1 year low. Mixed activities were seen as some investors took the opportunity to trim their longer term holdings in view of higher yields in 2015. Even as sentiment was boosted by the no-rate-hike action, players are now guessing the next step for Bank Negara. Sentiment was also negatively affected by the firm USD which was hampering offshore interest. Volumes were much lower due to shorter month as well as anticipation of MPC and FOMC meetings. At the close, average 5 years AAA and AA were traded at 4.25% and 4.52% respectively whilst 10 years closed at 4.70% and 5.04% respectively, an average of 1-2 basis points tighter.

For the period under review, the Money Market rates post OPR hike rose by 25-35bps across the tenures. As of end of August, the 1, 3 and 6 months rates were offered between 3.60%, 3.70% and 3.80% respectively.

ECONOMIC REVIEW AND OUTLOOK

The August inflation number came slightly higher than expected at +3.3% yoy, in comparison to +3.2% consensus. Meanwhile, Malaysia's IPI showed a small 0.5% yoy growth in July, or its smallest gain since February 2013. In contrast, consensus amongst economists was growth of 4.3% after the 7.0% yoy growth the month before. BNM kept OPR steady at 3.25% as expected in the September MPC meeting and we continue to believe the interest rate outlook to remain stable for the rest of 2014. This is supported by the wordings in statement such as "absence of external price pressures" and "moderate demand conditions" to mitigate impact of cost factors on underlying inflation.

STRATEGY GOING FORWARD

Our internal view of no more rate hike for the rest of 2014 will remain on the back of continued external economic uncertainties and expected lower demand environment. Hence, interest rates market is expected to remain stable until end of the year.

Our strategy will continue to fully invest into longer term money market placements for higher returns.
