MANAGER'S COMMENTSMARKET REVIEW

The global bond markets continued to rally in May as Ukraine crisis remained escalated, weaker China's economic numbers coupled with mixed US data and reiteration statement by Yellen for low US interest rate environment induced buying spree by investors and portfolio managers who were largely remained in cash since early of the year. The Federal Open Market Committee minutes, indicated that taper is still on but the level of the balance sheet will likely come down slowly hence, policy rates are likely to rise slowly and it will take a few years for monetary policy to return to normal. A still weak Consumer Price Index ("CPI" Apr: 0.3% MoM, March: 0.2% MoM), and Producer Price Index ("PPI" April 0.6% MoM, March: 0.5% MoM), appears that consumption is still oscillating from the adverse winter.

Finally the revised US 1Q14 GDP which recorded a contraction of -1.0% annualized from the advance estimate of +0.1% compared to the 4Q2013 of 2.6%, flattened yield curve further. At the close, the 2-, 5-, 10- and 30-year UST were traded at 0.38% (April: 0.41%), 1.54% (1.68%), 2.48% (2.65%) and 3.33% (3.46%) respectively.

Back to the domestic bond market, the hawkish tone from Bank Negara's Monetary Policy Committee ("MPC") meeting, as well as strong 1Q2014 GDP growth has caused the Malaysia Government Securities ("MGS") yield curve to underperform on the short end. The curve inched up by 10bps on the short end while tightened by 1 – 6bps on the long end. At close, the 3-, 5-, 7-, 10-, 15-, 20- and 30-year MGS were traded at 3.48% (April: 3.38%), 3.72% (3.62%), 3.94% (3.94%), 4.03% (4.08%), 4.36% (4.42%), 4.59% (4.60%) and 4.89% (4.89%) respectively. Similarly, the Government Investment Issues ("GII") also traded the same trend as MGS curve, with 3-, 5-, 7-, 10-, 15-year and 20-year benchmark yields transacted at 3.67% (April: 3.42%), 3.85% (3.81%), 4.12% (4.08%), 4.21% (4.23%), 4.50% (4.54%) and 4.85% (4.85%) respectively.

Weak MGS and GII performance have also deter Ringgit Corporate Bond buying interest which saw the average daily trading volume further declined to RM370mil, from RM387mil reported last month. AA rated trades were more popular in May, with 51.46% of registered trades, followed by GG/AAA trades of 48.23%.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

We believe the exodus of foreign institutional investors during 1Q14 have come to an end. New catalysts in Malaysia's Budget in coming October, calmer political situation, strong economic fundamentals and attractive capital market will be a magnet that will pull foreign institutional investors to Malaysia.

The latest MPC statement confirms that "there are signs of the continued buildup of financial imbalances" and that "current monetary and financial conditions could lead to a broader buildup in economic and financial imbalances." With private consumption growth exceeding the 7% threshold in the surprisingly strong 1Q GDP outturn, and inflation remained manageable, there is likely little room to further delay rate hikes. Current low interest rates environment should not continue for much longer as the resultant negative real interest rates will hurt savers. We opine that BNM will hike the OPR by 25bp in July at the earliest or latest by September this year.

With abundant liquidity in the market, the Manager will continue to have moderately longer cash portfolio duration i.e. to overweight placements up to 2 months with approved financial institutions in order to strategize portfolio for possible next rate hike.

DISCLAIMER:

Based on the fund's portfolio returns as at 15 May 2014, the Volatility Factor (VF) for this fund is 0.0 and is classified as "Very Low". (source: Lipper) "Very Low" includes funds with VF that are not more than 1.3 (source: Lipper).
