MANAGER'S COMMENTSEQUITY MARKET REVIEW

The month of July was an erratic month as the KLCI scaled new all-time highs early in the month only to come under slight selling pressure towards month end. The major corporate development during the month was the potential CIMB, RHB and MBSB merger after Bank Negara gave the green light to proceed with negotiations at Board level. July saw Bank Negara Malaysia increasing the Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) to 25bps to 3.25% which came in within market's expectations but the long holiday during Eid Mubarak has caused the KLCI to remain subdued. The KLCI ended the month 11pts or 0.6% lower to close at 1,871pts. The broader market outperformed the KLCI as the FBM Emas gained 0.5% mom to 13,086pts. Small caps outperformed as the FBM Small cap rallied 6.3% to 19,066pts while the FBM ACE was up 5.7% to 7,045pts.

MARKET OUTLOOK

Going forward, we are expecting the KLCI to remain nervy as August has been historically a weak month. We think the lack of earnings impetus from the recent quarterly reporting has caused the KLCI to remain a laggard against the regional peers whilst the already expensive nature of the KLCI based on the current PER of 16.6x would prevent any steep upside in the month of August. We are capping the resistance for the KLCI at 1,880-1,890 whilst any downside risk will be capped at 1,855- 1,845 this month. We will take advantage of any pull back to increase market exposures.
