2. INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Fund aims to provide income^ and long-term* capital growth by investing in one target fund.

Note: ^ The income is in the form of Units, unless the Unit Holder specifically requests for the distribution to be paid out to the Unit Holder.
 "long term" in this context refers to a period of between 5 – 7 years.*

3. INVESTMENT STRATEGY

3.1 Investment Strategy

The Fund will invest principally in the USD denominated class A shares(1) of the Target Fund.

The Target Fund is a sub-fund under the umbrella fund, Fidelity Funds. The investment objective of the Target Fund seeks to provide a high level of current income and capital appreciation by investing primarily in high-yielding sub investment grade(2) securities of issuers, or in high-yielding securities of sub investment grade(2) issuers, all having their principal business activities in the Asian region. The type of debt securities in which the Target Fund will primarily invest will be subject to high risk and will not be required to meet a minimum rating standard. Not all securities will be rated for creditworthiness by an internationally recognized rating agency. The Target Fund may invest its net assets directly in onshore China fixed income securities(3) listed or traded on exchanges in China.

Explanatory notes:

(1) The Target Fund expects to distribute substantially the whole of class A's net investment income for the year. Dividends are normally declared on the first business day# of each month and are normally paid within ten business days#, or as soon as practicable thereafter. Hedging transactions will not be carried out for this USD denominated class A shares.

#'business days' here refer to a day on which the banks in Luxembourg are normally open for business.

(2) Reference to sub investment grade securities or issuers shall mean securities or issuers with a rating of BB+ or less from Standard & Poor's or equivalent rating from an internationally recognised rating agency.

(3) The Target Fund's direct investments in onshore China fixed income securities listed or traded on exchanges in China will be made through the Qualified Foreign Institutional Investors ("QFII") quota of the Target Fund's sub-investment manager, FIL Investment Management (Hong Kong) Limited ("Fidelity Hong Kong").

Although the Fund is passively managed, the investments of the Fund will be rebalanced from time to time to meet Unit sales and Unit redemptions transactions. This is to enable proper and efficient management of the Fund.

The Manager does not adopt any temporary defensive positions for the Fund in response to adverse market, economic, political, or any other condition as such defensive strategies are expected to be implemented at the Target Fund's level. The Manager does not adopt any temporary defensive positions for the Fund as this will allow the Fund to best track the performance of the Target Fund. It also follows that if the Target Fund fails to adopt a successful defensive position in response to adverse market and economic positions, there is a risk that the Fund will mirror the Target Fund's negative performance, if any. Also, investors should note that at all times the Fund is always subject to currency risk as Units are denominated in RM and the Fund will invest in the USD denominated shares of the Target Fund and the underlying portfolio holdings of the Target Fund may be denominated in USD and other currencies.

The Fund is a feeder fund that invests at least 95% of its NAV in the Target Fund. The risk management strategies and techniques employed will be at the Target Fund level.

Notwithstanding anything contained herein, the Manager may, in consultation with the Trustee and with the approval of the Unit Holders, replace the Target Fund with another fund of a similar objective or close the Fund if, in the Manager's opinion, the Target Fund no longer meets the Fund's investment objective, or when acting in the interest of the Unit Holders.

3.2 Asset Allocation

At least 95% of NAV
- Investments in the USD denominated class A shares of the Target Fund.

2% to 5% of NAV
- Investments in liquid assets including money market instruments and Placements of Cash.

3.3 Benchmark

BofA/Merrill Lynch Blended Index: ACCY, 20% Level 4 Cap 3% Constrained.

The benchmark chosen best represents the investments of the Target Fund. An investor may refer to the Manager or to Bloomberg L.P. for this benchmark indicator.

The benchmark index is customized for the Target Fund by the index provider, Bank of America Merrill Lynch ("BofA/Merrill Lynch"). It is based on the index provider's Asian Dollar High Yield Index ("ACCY") with sector exposure (in the index provider's terminology, sector classification is referred to as "Level 4") capped at 20% and issuer exposure capped at 3%. ACCY tracks the performance of sub-investment grade USD denominated sovereign, quasi-government, corporate, securitized and collateralized debt publicly issued in the US domestic and Eurobond markets by Asian issuers.

3.4 Financial Derivatives

As the Fund will invest in shares of the Target Fund which is denominated in USD, the Manager may trade in financial derivatives, which include but is not limited to forwards and swaps, for the purpose of hedging the Fund's exposure to USD. The benefit of any upside of currency movement is limited as the sole interest is to protect the value of the portfolio. The Fund's net market exposure owing to its financial derivatives positions will not at any time exceed its NAV.

3.5 Leverage

The Fund may borrow cash on a temporary basis (i.e. not more than one (1) month) from financial institutions to meet redemption requests. Such borrowing shall not exceed ten (10) percent of the net asset value of the Fund at the time the borrowing is incurred and assets of the Fund may only be pledged as collateral with financial institutions for borrowing of this nature.

(2) At least 70% of net asset value of the Target Fund will be invested in high-yielding sub investment grade debt securities of issuers, or in high-yielding debt securities of sub investment grade issuers, all having their principal business activities in the Asian region.

(3) Reference to sub investment grade securities or issuers shall mean securities or issuers with a rating of BB+ or less from Standard & Poor's or equivalent rating from an internationally recognised rating agency.

(4) Up to 10% of net asset value of the Target Fund may be invested directly in onshore China fixed income securities (with aggregate exposure including direct and indirect investments of up to 30% of its net asset value). The Target Fund's direct investments in onshore China fixed income securities listed or traded on exchanges in China will be made through the Qualified Foreign Institutional Investors Quota ("QFII") of the Target Fund's sub-investment manager, Fidelity Hong Kong.

The Target Fund may invest up to 100% of its assets in securities issued or guaranteed by certain government and other public bodies. The Target Fund may invest in bonds or debt instruments which can, among others, be issued by governments, agencies, supra-nationals, private or publicly quoted companies, special purpose or investment vehicles, or trusts. They may pay fixed or variable coupons, whereby the variable element may be derived from prevailing market interest rates or the performance of other assets (e.g. asset-backed securities). Asset-backed securities and mortgage-backed securities will not exceed 20% of the net asset value of the Target Fund, provided that such limit will not apply to investments in such securities issued or guaranteed by the United States government or United States government sponsored entities. The repayment of a bond may have a fixed date or may be subject to some issuer discretion (e.g. some mortgage bonds). Bonds can have conversion or subscription rights to other assets attached to them (e.g. convertible bonds). In selecting bond securities, several factors are considered in the investment process; for example, consideration may include, but is not limited to, a company's financials, including revenue and profit growth, balance sheet health and positioning, cash flows, and other financial measures. In addition, company management, industry and economic environment, and other factors may be considered in the investment process. Occasionally, investments may be made in bonds issued in currencies other than USD. With due consideration given to the restrictions on investments required by applicable law and regulations and on an ancillary basis, the Target Fund may further hold cash and cash equivalents (including money market instruments and deposits) up to 49% of the Target Fund's net asset value. This percentage may be exceptionally exceeded if the directors of Fidelity Funds consider this to be in the best interests of investors. The Target Fund may have non-material exposure to loans that comply with money market instruments pursuant to Luxembourg Law.

4.3 Risk management of the Target Fund

The management company of Fidelity Funds, Fidelity Luxembourg, will employ a risk-management process which enables it to monitor and measure at any time the risk of the positions and their contribution to the overall risk profile of the Target Fund. Fidelity Luxembourg will employ, if applicable, a process for accurate and independent assessment of the value of any over-the-counter derivative instruments[(5)].

Explanatory note:

[(5)] The Target Fund may use financial derivative instruments provided (a) they are economically appropriate in that they are realised in a cost-effective way, (b) they are entered into for one or more of (i) reduction of risk, (ii) reduction of cost and (iii) generation of additional capital or income for the Target Fund with a level of rick which is consistent with the risk profile of the Target Fund and the risk diversification rules of the Target Fund, and (c) their risks are adequately captured by the risk management process of Fidelity Funds. Financial derivative instruments may include over-the-counter and/or exchange traded options, interest rate or bond futures, interest rate swaps, credit default swaps (single name and baskets), inflation index swaps, forward contract or a combination thereof.

While the judicious use of financial derivative instruments may be beneficial, financial derivative instruments also involve risks different from, and, in certain cases greater than the risks presented by more traditional investments. The use of financial derivative instruments may cause the share price of the Target Fund to be more volatile. Please refer to the specific risks of the Target Fund.

4.4 Temporary suspension and restrictions of certain dealings with the Target Fund

(a) Temporary suspension of determination of net asset value by the Target Fund

The directors of the Fidelity Funds may suspend the determination of the net asset value of shares of the Target Fund, the issue of such shares, the switching of such shares and the redemption of such shares in the following instances.

- during any period (other than ordinary holidays or customary weekend closings) when any market or stock exchange is closed on which a significant portion of the Target Fund's investments is quoted and which is the main market or stock exchange for such investments, provided that the closing of such exchange or market affects the valuation of the investments quoted thereon; or during any period when dealings on such market or stock exchange are substantially restricted or suspended, provided such restriction or suspension affects the valuation of the investments of the Target Fund;

- during any period when an emergency exists as a result of which disposal by the Target Fund of investments which constitute a substantial portion of the assets of the Target Fund is not practically feasible or would be seriously prejudicial to the shareholders of the Target Fund;

- during any breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the price of any of the Target Fund's investments or of current prices on any market or stock exchange;

- during any period when remittance of monies which will or may be involved in the realisation of or in the payment for any of the Target Fund's investments cannot, in the opinion of the directors of the Fidelity Funds, be carried out at normal rates of exchange;

- if the Fidelity Funds or the Target Fund is being or may be wound-up, on or following the date on which such decision is taken by the directors of the Fidelity Funds or notice is given to shareholders of the Target Fund of a general meeting of shareholders at which a resolution to wind-up the Fidelity Funds or the Target Fund is to be proposed;

- in the case of a merger, if the directors of the Fidelity Funds and/or Fidelity Luxembourg deems this to be justified for the protection of shareholders of the Target Fund;

- when for any other reason the prices of any investments owned by the Target Fund cannot promptly or accurately be ascertained;

- while the value of the investments held through any subsidiary of the Fidelity Funds may not be determined accurately;

- during any period when in the opinion of the directors of the Fidelity Funds or Fidelity Luxembourg unusual circumstances exist where it would be impractical or unfair towards the shareholders of the Target Fund to continue dealing in the shares of the Target Fund, or circumstances where a failure to do so might result in the shareholders of the Target Fund incurring any liability to taxation or suffering other pecuniary disadvantage or other detriment which the shareholders of the Target Fund might not otherwise have suffered, or any other circumstances; and

- in the case of a suspension of the calculation of the net asset value of one or several underlying investment funds in which the Target Fund has invested a substantial portion of assets.

Should there be a temporary suspension of determination of net asset value of the shares of the Target Fund, the Fund will be notified in writing of any such suspension of the right to subscribe or to require redemption of shares of the Target Fund and will be promptly notified upon termination of such suspension. Any such suspension will be published in such manner as decided by the directors of the Fidelity Funds if in its opinion the suspension is likely to exceed one week.

Should the Target Fund suspend its determination of net asset value of the shares, the pricing of Units will immediately be suspended and the Fund will also temporarily suspend all sales and redemptions of Units. Unit Holders will also be notified and kept informed in such an instance.

(b) Deferred redemption imposed by the Target Fund

If on any valuation date of the Target Fund, redemption requests and switching requests relate to more than 5% of the shares in issue in respect of the Target Fund –

- the directors of the Fidelity Funds may declare that part or all of such shares for redemption or switching will be deferred on a pro rata basis for a period that the directors of the Fidelity Funds consider to be in the best interests of the Target Fund; and/or

- the directors of the Fidelity Funds may defer any redemption request which exceeds the higher of 3% of the shares in issue in respect of the Target Fund or class of shares of the Target Fund or USD 5 million (or its currency equivalent).

On such valuation dates, these redemption and switching requests will be met in priority to later requests. Such period would not normally exceed 20 valuation dates.

The Fund will only be involved in redemption and subscription of the shares of the Target Fund. In the event of a deferred redemption by the Target Fund, the Fund may not receive redemption proceeds within the anticipated time or amount sought for in which case the Manager may suspend and/or delay payment for any redemption requests and Unit Holders will be notified accordingly.

(c) Contemplated liquidation of the Target Fund

In the event of any contemplated liquidation of the Target Fund, no further issues, switching, or redemptions of shares of the Target Fund will be permitted after publication of the first notice convening the general meeting of shareholders of the Target Fund for the purpose of winding up the Target Fund. All shares of the Target Fund outstanding at the time of such publication will participate in the Target Fund's liquidation distribution.

The distributor of the Target Fund, i.e. Fidelity Singapore reserves the right to suspend or terminate sales of shares in the Target Fund and to refuse to accept any applications. Sales will normally be suspended when the Target Fund suspends the determination of net asset value.

Fidelity Singapore will notify the Fund of any such notice to wind up the Target Fund. In such event, the Manager may suspend all dealings of Units and the Manager in consultation with the Trustee will call a Unit Holder's meeting to close the Fund or replace the Target Fund with another.

(d) Restrictions on buying and subscribing shares of the Target Fund

The board of directors of Fidelity Funds may decide to partially or totally close the Target Fund or class of shares of the Target Fund, thus restricting the Fund from buying and subscribing shares of the Target Fund.

Where this occurs, the website www.fidelityworldwideinvestment.com will be amended to indicate the change in status of the Target Fund or class of shares of the Target Fund. Once closed, the Target Fund or the class of shares of the Target Fund will not be re-opened until, in the opinion of the board of directors of Fidelity Funds, the circumstances which required closure no longer prevail.

Should this occur, at Fund level, the Manager will notify all Unit Holders immediately and keep them abreast with any development.

4.5 Liquidation of Fidelity Funds, the Target Fund and its classes of shares

In the event that for any reason the aggregate value of the shares of the Target Fund or class of shares of the Target Fund is below USD 50,000,000 (or its equivalent) or if a change in the economic or political situation relating to the Target Fund or the class of shares of the Target Fund concerned or if the interest of the shareholders of the Target Fund would justify it:

(i) the board of directors of Fidelity Funds ("Board") may decide to liquidate the Target Fund or the class of shares of the Target Fund concerned. The decision of the liquidation will be published or notified to the Fund by Fidelity Funds prior to the effective date of the liquidation and the publication or notification will indicate the reasons and the procedures for the liquidation. Unless the Board otherwise decides in the interest of, or to keep equal treatment between all shareholders of Fidelity Funds' sub-funds, all shareholders of the Target Fund or the class of shares of the Target Fund concerned (including the Fund) may continue to request redemption of its investments in the Target Fund.

In all other circumstances or where the Board determines that the decision should be put to all shareholders of the Target Fund for approval, the decision to liquidate the Target Fund or a class of shares of the Target Fund may be taken at a meeting of the shareholders of the Target Fund ("Shareholders Meeting") or at a meeting of shareholders of the class of shares of the Target Fund ("Class Shareholders Meeting") to be liquidated. At such meeting, no quorum is required and the decision to liquidate will be taken by simple majority of the votes cast. The decision of the meeting will be notified and/or published by Fidelity Funds in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.

Any merger of the Target Fund shall be decided upon by the Board unless the Board decides to submit the decision for a merger to a Shareholders Meeting. No quorum is required for such meeting and decisions are taken by the simple majority of the votes cast.

(ii) The Board may decide upon the reorganisation of the Target Fund by means of a division into two or more separate funds. To the extent required by Luxembourg Law, such decision will be published or notified, if appropriate in the same manner described in the above paragraph (i) and in addition, the publication or notification will contain information in relation to the funds resulting from the reorganisation. Any division of shares of any class of shares of the Target Fund shall be decided upon by the Board unless the Board decides to submit such decision to do so to a Shareholders Meeting.

(iii) The Board may, subject to regulatory approval (if required), decide to consolidate or split any classes of shares of the Target Fund. To the extent required by Luxembourg Law, such decision will be published or notified in the same manner described in the above paragraph (i) and the publication and/or notification will contain information in relation to the proposed split or consolidation. The Board may also decide to submit the question of the consolidation or split of any class of shares of the Target Fund to a Class Shareholders Meeting. No quorum is required for this meeting and decisions are taken by the simple majority of the votes cast.

The umbrella fund, Fidelity Funds is established of unlimited duration but may be liquidated at any time by resolution of the shareholders of its sub-funds in accordance with Luxembourg Law. The net proceeds of liquidation corresponding to the Target Fund shall be distributed by the liquidators to the shareholders in the Target Fund (including the Fund) in proportion to their holding of shares in the Target Fund.

A general meeting of the shareholders of all sub-funds under Fidelity Funds will be called to consider the liquidation of Fidelity Funds if the value of Fidelity Funds' net assets should decline to less than two-thirds of the minimum capital required by law. The minimum capital required by Luxembourg Law is currently the equivalent of Euro 1,250,000.

In the event of notification of a Shareholders Meeting to liquidate the umbrella fund, Fidelity Funds or the Target Fund, or a notification of a Class Shareholders Meeting to liquidate the USD class A shares of the Target Fund, the Manager will notify Unit Holders of such event and if such a meeting leads to the winding-up of Fidelity Funds or the Target Fund, the Manager in consultation with the Trustee will call a Unit Holders' meeting to close the Fund or replace the Target Fund with another.

In the event of a notification of a Shareholders Meeting for an exercise by the Target Fund either to merge the Target Fund, to re-organise the Target Fund, to consolidate or split the shares of the Target Fund, the Manager will instruct the Trustee to vote accordingly for any such exercise by the Target Fund and the Manager will notify Unit Holders of the position it will and/or has taken under such an exercise.

5. PERMITTED INVESTMENTS AND RESTRICTIONS

The Fund will invest in one collective investment scheme i.e. Fidelity Funds – Asian High Yield Fund, trade in financial derivatives, invest in money market instruments and make Placements of Cash with any financial institutions, and any other investments as agreed between the Trustee and the Manager from time to time, provided that there is no inconsistency with the Fund's objective.

In undertaking the Fund's investments, the Fund must not invest in a fund-of-funds, a feeder fund, or any sub-fund of an umbrella scheme which is a fund-of-funds or a feeder fund.

6. RISK FACTORS OF THE FUND

6.1 General Risks of Investing in a Wholesale Fund

The following are general risks involved in investing in this Fund:

(a) Redemption risk

The ability of the Fund to honour request for redemption in a timely manner is subject to the Fund's holding of adequate liquid assets and/or its ability to borrow on a temporary basis as permitted by the relevant laws. In the event there is insufficient liquid assets, the Manager may have to liquidate the Fund's investment at an unfavourable price.

(b) Returns are not guaranteed

There is no guarantee on the investment returns to Unit Holders.

6.2 Specific Risks when Investing in this Fund

(a) Management risk

As the Fund invests at least 95% of its NAV in the Target Fund, it is subject to the management risk of the management company of the Target Fund. Poor management of the Target Fund by the target fund's management company will jeopardise the investments of the Fund in the Target Fund and in turn, the Unit Holders' investments through the risk of loss of capital invested in the Fund.

(b) Currency risk

As units of the Fund are denominated in RM and the Fund will invest in the USD denominated shares of the Target Fund, the Fund is subject to currency risk.

The fluctuation in foreign exchange rates between the currencies of RM (i.e. the base currency for the Fund) and USD (i.e. the currency denomination of the shares of the Target Fund) may cause the value of the Fund's investment in the shares of the Target Fund to diminish or increase which in turn would affect the value of Unit Holders' investments in the Fund.

(c) Country risk

As the Target Fund is domiciled in Luxembourg, the Target Fund is subject to country risk. The Fund's investments in the Target Fund may be adversely affected by political instability as well as exchange controls, changes in taxation, foreign investment policies, restrictions on repatriation of investments and other restrictions and controls which may be imposed by the relevant authorities in Luxembourg.

(d) Pricing and valuation risk

The Fund's assets will comprise at least 95% of NAV in USD denominated class A shares of the Target Fund where a valuation price will be obtained from the Target Fund's corporate representative and distributor, Fidelity Singapore while the remaining portfolio of the Fund are in in liquid assets including money market instruments and Placements of Cash. The risk arises if there are errors of pricing from Fidelity Singapore or should the valuation of the Target Fund be suspended or deferred or should there be any restriction on subscription of shares of the Target Fund (see section 4.4). Should any of these events occur, the pricing and valuation of the Fund will likewise be suspended. And in some cases, the Fund's redemption dealing may also be affected and time to payment of a Unit Holder's redemption request may be delayed. In any of these events, the Manager will notify and keep Unit Holders informed of the situation.

6.3 Specific Risks of Investments of the Target Fund

Investments of the Target Fund are subject to the risks detailed below. The net asset value of the Target Fund is affected by the fluctuations of the value of the investment securities held by the Target Fund. All profits and losses arising from investment management of these securities belong to the investors (including the Fund). Accordingly, the principal amount of the Target Fund and profits arising from investments in the high-yielding sub investment grade debt securities of issuers, or in high-yielding debt securities of sub investment grade issuers are not guaranteed. Investors (including the Fund) may incur a loss and the value of their investment principal may fall below par as the result of a decline in the net asset value of the Target Fund.

(a) Bonds, Debt Instruments & Fixed Income (including High Yielding Securities)

As the Target Fund invests in bonds or other debt instruments, the value of these investments will depend on market interest rates, the credit quality of the issuer and liquidity considerations. The net asset value of the Target Fund will change in response to fluctuations in interest rates, perceived credit quality of the issuer, market liquidity and also currency exchange rates (when the currency of the investment is other than the reference currency of the Target Fund holding that investment). The Target Fund invests in high yielding debt instruments where the level of income may be relatively high (compared to investment grade debt instruments); however the risk of depreciation and realisation of capital losses on such debt instruments held will be significantly higher than on lower yielding debt instruments.

(b) Lower Rated/ Unrated Securities

The credit quality of debt instruments is often assessed by rating agencies. Medium- and lower-rated securities and un-rated securities of comparable quality may be subject to wider fluctuations in yield, wider bid-offer spreads, greater liquidity premium and accentuated market expectations, and consequently greater fluctuations in market values, than higher-rated securities. Changes in such ratings, or expectation of changes, will be likely to cause changes in yield and market values, at times significantly so.

(c) Qualified Foreign Institutional Investors ("QFII") Risks

Under the prevailing regulations in the People's Republic of China ("PRC"), foreign investors can invest in onshore China fixed income securities through institutions that have obtained Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor ("QFII") status in the PRC. The current QFII regulations impose strict restrictions (including rules on investment restrictions, minimum investment holding period as well as remittance and repatriation of principal and profits) on onshore China fixed income securities. The Target Fund may not be able to freely repatriate principal and profits from China and there may be potential lock-up periods imposed for repatriation. The restrictions on or the delays in the repatriation of principal and profits may have an unfavourable impact on the Target Fund. In extreme circumstances, the Target Fund may incur losses due to limited investment opportunities, or may not be able to fully implement or pursue the Target Fund's investment objectives or strategy, due to QFII investment restrictions, illiquidity of the onshore China fixed income securities market, and/or delay or disruption in execution of trades or in settlement of trades. The uncertainty and change of the laws and regulations in China may adversely impact the Target Fund. The QFII policy and regulation are also subject to change with potential retrospective effect. Investments by the Target Fund in onshore China fixed income securities and other permissible securities denominated in Renminbi will be made through the QFII in Renminbi. The Target Fund will be exposed to any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Target Fund's reference currency (i.e. USD) and the Renminbi in respect of such investments. Renminbi is not freely convertible and is subject to policies of exchange controls and repatriation restrictions. There is no assurance that Renminbi will not be subject to devaluation or revaluation or that shortages in the availability of foreign currency will not develop.

(d) Emerging and frontier markets risk

The Target Fund invests in emerging market securities and the price of these securities may be more volatile than those of securities in more developed markets. This volatility may stem from political and economic factors and be exacerbated by legal, trading liquidity, settlement, transfer of securities and currency factors. Although care is taken to understand and manage these risks, the Target Fund and accordingly investors in the Target Fund will ultimately bear the risks associated with investing in these markets.

(e) Currency risk

The Target Fund's total return and balance sheet can be significantly affected by foreign exchange rate movements if the Target Fund's assets and income are denominated in currencies other than the reference currency of the Target Fund (i.e. USD) and this means that currency movements may significantly affect the value of the Target Fund's share price. The three principal areas of foreign currency risk are where movements in exchange rates affect the value of investments, short term timing differences or income received. The Target Fund may, or may not, hedge these risks using either spot or forward foreign exchange contracts.

Chinese Renminbi (RMB) is subject to a managed floating exchange rate based on market supply and demand with reference to a basket of currencies. Currently, the RMB is traded in two markets: one in Mainland China, and one outside Mainland China (primarily in Hong Kong). The RMB traded in Mainland China is not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and certain requirements by the government of Mainland China. The RMB traded outside Mainland China, on the other hand, is freely tradable. Whilst the RMB is traded freely outside Mainland China, the RMB spot, forward foreign exchange contracts and related instruments reflect the structural complexities of this evolving market. Accordingly, the Target Fund may be exposed to greater foreign exchange risks.

In addition, there may be liquidity risks associated with RMB products, especially if such investments do not have an active secondary market and their prices are subject to significant bid and offer spread. Fidelity Bermuda, the investment manager of the Target Fund, will nevertheless seek to invest the assets of the Target Fund in such a manner which will enable the Target Fund to meet its obligations to redeem the shares of the Target Fund.

(f) Distribution out of capital risk

The Target Fund may pay dividends out of capital where the income/ capital gain generated by the Target Fund is insufficient to pay a distribution as declared. Payment of dividends out of capital represents a return or withdrawal of part of the amount originally invested or from any capital gains attributable to the original investment. Such distributions may result in an immediate decrease in the net asset value per share of the Target Fund.

(g) Securitised or structured debt instruments

The Target Fund may invest in securitised or structured debt instruments (collectively referred to as structured products). Such instruments include asset-backed securities, mortgage-backed securities, collateralised debt instruments and collateralised loan obligations. Structured products provide exposure, synthetically or otherwise, to underlying assets and the risk/return profile is determined by the cash flows derived from such assets. Some of such products involve multiple instruments and cash flow profiles such that it is not possible to predict with certainty the outcome from all market scenarios. Also the price of such an investment could be contingent on, or highly sensitive to, changes in the underlying components of the structured instrument. The underlying assets can take many forms including, but not limited to, credit card receivables, residential mortgages, corporate loans, manufactured housing loans or any type of receivables from a company or structured vehicle that has regular cash flows from its customers. Some structured products may employ leverage which can cause the price of the instruments to be more volatile than if they had not employed leverage. In addition investments in structured products may be less liquid than other securities. The lack of liquidity may cause the current market price of assets to become disconnected from the underlying assets' value and consequently funds investing in securitised products may be more susceptible to liquidity risk. The liquidity of a structured product can be less than a regular bond or debt instrument and this may adversely affect either the ability to sell the position or the price at which such a sale is transacted.

(h) Derivatives related risks

Although the Target Fund will not make extensive use of financial derivative instruments for investment purposes or use complex derivative instruments or strategies to meet the investment objectives of the Target Fund, the use of financial derivative instruments may give rise to leverage, liquidity counterparty and valuations risks at times. In adverse situations the Target Fund's use of derivative instruments may become ineffective and the Target Fund may suffer significant losses. The following are important risk factors and issues concerning the use of derivative instruments –

- Market Risk – This is the general risk applicable to all investments that the value of a particular investment may fluctuate. Where the value of the underlying asset (either security or reference benchmark) of a derivative instrument changes, the value of the instrument will become positive or negative, depending on the performance of the underlying asset. For non-option derivatives the absolute size of the fluctuation in value of a derivative will be very similar to the fluctuation in value of the underlying security or reference benchmark. In the case of options, the absolute change in value of an option will not necessarily be similar to the change in value of the underlying because, as explained further below, under "(i) Risks in relation to specific derivative instruments: exchange traded and OTC options", changes in options values are dependent on a number of other variables.

- Liquidity Risk – Liquidity risk exists when a particular instrument is difficult to purchase or sell. If a derivative instrument transaction is particularly large or if the relevant market is illiquid (as can be the case with privately negotiated or non-exchange traded derivatives referred to as being 'over the counter' derivative instruments, which is abbreviated to "OTC" derivative instruments), it may not be possible to initiate a transaction or liquidate a position at an advantageous price.

- Counterparty Credit Risk – This is the risk that a loss may be sustained by the Target Fund as a result of the failure of the other party to a derivative instrument (usually referred to as a 'counterparty') to comply with the terms of the derivative instrument contract. The counterparty credit risk for exchange-traded derivative instruments is generally less than for OTC derivative instruments, since the clearing firm, which is the issuer or counterparty to each exchange-traded derivative instrument, provides a guarantee of clearing. This guarantee is supported by a daily payment system (i.e. margin requirements) operated by the clearing firm in order to reduce overall counterparty credit risk. Assets deposited as margin with the brokers and/or exchanges may not be held in segregated accounts by these counterparties and may therefore become available to the creditors of such counterparties in the event of default by them. For privately negotiated OTC derivative instruments, there is no similar clearing firm guarantee. Therefore, the manager of the Target Fund adopts a counterparty risk management framework which measures, monitors and manages counterparty credit risk, taking into account both current and potential future credit exposure, through the use of internal credit assessments and external credit agency ratings. Privately negotiated OTC derivative instruments are not standardised. They are an agreement between two parties and can therefore be tailored to the requirements of the parties involved. The documentation risk is reduced by adhering to standard documentation from the International Swap and Derivatives Association, Inc ("ISDA"). The Target Fund's exposure to an individual counterparty shall not exceed 10% of the Target Fund's net assets. Counterparty credit risk may be further mitigated through the use of collateral agreements. However, collateral arrangements are still subject to the insolvency risk and credit risk of the issuers or depositary of the collateral. Further, collateral thresholds exist below which collateral is not called for and timing differences between calculating the need for collateral and its receipt by the Target Fund from the counterparty will both mean that not all the current exposure will be collateralised.

- Settlement Risk – Settlement risk exists when futures, forwards, contracts for differences options and swaps (of any type) are not settled in a timely manner, thereby increasing counterparty credit risk prior to settlement and potentially incurring funding costs that would otherwise not be experienced. If settlement never occurs the loss incurred by the Target Fund will be the same as it is for any other such situation involving a security namely the difference between the price of the original contract and the price of the replacement contract, or, in the case where the contract is not replaced the absolute value of the contract at the time it is voided.

- Fund Management Risk – Derivative instruments are highly specialised instruments that require investment techniques and risk analyses different from those associated with stocks and bonds. The use of a derivative instrument requires an understanding not only of the underlying asset but also of the derivative instrument itself, without necessarily the benefit of observing the performance of the derivative instrument under all possible market conditions. Further the price of an OTC derivative might not move in line with the price of the underlying instrument in some market conditions.

- Other Risks – Other risks in using derivative instruments include the risk of mispricing or improper valuation. Some derivative instruments, in particular privately negotiated OTC derivative instruments, do not have prices observable on an exchange and so involve the use of formulae, with prices of underlying securities or reference benchmarks obtained from other sources of market price data. OTC options involve the use of models, with assumptions, which increases the risk of pricing errors. Improper valuations could result in increased cash payment requirements to counterparties or a loss of value to the Target Fund. Derivative instruments do not always perfectly or even highly correlate or track the value of the assets, rates or indices they are designed to track. Consequently, the Target Fund's use of derivative instruments may not always be an effective means of, and sometimes could be counterproductive to, furthering the Target Fund's investment objective. In adverse situations, the Target Fund's use of derivative instruments may become ineffective and the Target Fund may suffer significant losses.

(i) Risks in relation to specific derivative instruments

The following is a non-exhaustive and indicative list of specific financial derivative instruments the Target Fund may use:

- Exchange traded and OTC options – Options are complex instruments whose value depends on many variables including the strike price of the underlying (versus the spot price both at the time the option is transacted and subsequently), the time to maturity of the option (European or American or other type) and volatility among others. The most significant contributor to market risk resulting from options is the market risk associated with the underlying when the option has an intrinsic value (i.e. it is 'in-the-money'), or the strike price is near the price of the underlying ('near-the-money'). In these circumstances the change in the value of the underlying will have a significant influence on the change in value of the option. The other variable will also have an influence, which will likely to be greater the further away the strike price is from the price of the underlying. Unlike exchange traded option contracts (which are settled through a clearing firm), OTC option contracts are privately negotiated between two parties and are not standardised. Further, the two parties must bear each other's credit risk and collateral is arranged to mitigate this risk. The liquidity of an OTC option can be less than an exchange traded option and this may adversely affect the ability to close out the option position, or the price at which such a close out is transacted.

- Credit default swaps ("CDS") – These contracts represent a credit derivative, whose market value will change in line with the perceived credit standing of the underlying security or basket of securities. Where protection has been sold, the Target Fund has a similar credit exposure to the underlying security or basket of securities as if they had actually been bought. Where protection has been bought, the Target Fund will receive a payment from the counterparty to the swap if the underlying security (or one in the basket of securities) defaults, based on the difference between the notional principal of the swap and the expected recovery value, as determined by the market at the time of default. The swap contract is an agreement between two parties and therefore each party bears the other's counterparty credit risk. Collateral is arranged to mitigate this risk. The documentation risk for CDS is reduced by adhering to standard documentation from ISDA. The liquidity of a CDS may be worse than the liquidity of the underlying security or securities in the basket and this may adversely affect the ability to close out a CDS position or the price at which such a close out is transacted.

- Interest rate swaps – An interest rate swap normally involves exchanging a fixed interest amount per payment period for a payment that is based on a floating rate benchmark. The notional principal of an interest rate swap is never exchanged, only the fixed and floating amounts. Where the payment dates of the two interest amounts coincide there is normally one net settlement. The market risk of this type of instrument is driven by the change in the reference benchmarks used for the fixed and floating legs. An interest rate swap is an OTC agreement between two parties and so can be tailored to the requirements of the parties involved. Consequently each party bears the other's credit risk and collateral is arranged to mitigate this risk.

- Bond futures and interest rate futures – The risk to the buyer or seller of an exchange-traded future is the change in value of the underlying reference contract/bond. Futures contracts are forward contracts, meaning they represent a pledge to make a certain economic transfer at a future date. The exchange of value occurs by the date specified in the contract; the majority of contracts have to be cash settled and where physical delivery is an option the underlying instrument is actually rarely exchanged. Futures are distinguished from generic forward contracts in that they contain standardised terms, trade on a formal exchange, are regulated by overseeing agencies, and are guaranteed by clearing firms. Also, in order to ensure that payment will occur, futures have both an initial margin and a margin requirement which moves in line with the market value of the underlying asset that must be settled daily.

- Inflation index swaps – The market risk of this type of instrument is driven by the change in the reference benchmarks used for the two legs of the transaction, one of which will be an inflation benchmark. This is an agreement between two parties and so can be tailored to the requirements of the parties involved. Consequently each party bears the other's credit risk and collateral is arranged to mitigate this risk. An inflation index swap normally involves exchanging a fixed final amount for a payment that is not fixed (the floating side of the swap would usually be linked to an inflation index in one of the major currencies).

- Forward contracts - The risk to the buyer or seller of such contracts is the change in value of the underlying security. When the value of the underlying security changes, the value of the contract becomes positive or negative. Unlike futures contracts which are settled through a clearing firm) OTC forward contracts are privately negotiated between two parties and are not standardised. Further, the two parties must bear each other's credit risk, which is not the case with a futures contract and collateral is arranged to mitigate this risk. Also, since these contracts are not exchange traded, there is no marked-to-market margin requirement, which allows a buyer to avoid almost all capital outflow initially.

Investors are advised to read the information memorandum and obtain professional advice before subscribing to Units.

It is important to note that events affecting the investments cannot always be foreseen. Therefore, it is not always possible to protect your investment against all risks.

The investments of the Fund carry risks and we recommend that you read the whole information memorandum to assess the risks of the Fund.

7. PRICING POLICY

Selling Price is the price (before adding any sales charge) payable by an investor or a Unit Holder for the purchase of a Unit ("Selling Price"). The Selling Price is fixed at RM 1.0000 per Unit during the Fund's initial offer period.

After the Fund's initial offer period, the Selling Price shall be the NAV per Unit as at the next valuation point of the relevant Business Day ("forward pricing") after the application for Units is received by the Manager.

A sales charge will be computed separately based on the investment amount/purchase amount, net of bank charges, if any.

Repurchase Price is the price (before deducting any repurchase charge) payable by the Manager to a Unit Holder pursuant to the repurchase of a Unit ("Repurchase Price"). The Repurchase Price is fixed at RM 1.0000 per Unit during the Fund's initial offer period.

After the Fund's initial offer period, the Repurchase Price shall be the NAV per Unit as at the next valuation point of the relevant Business Day ("forward pricing") after the repurchase request is received by the Manager.

A repurchase charge may be computed separately based on the withdrawal amount/repurchase amount.

The NAV is determined by deducting the value of all the Fund's liabilities from the value of all the Fund's assets, at the valuation point. The NAV per Unit is determined when the NAV is divided by the total number of the Units in circulation at that valuation point.

The NAV per Unit will be made available on our website, http://www.rhbgroup.com.

8. VALUATION OF ASSETS

The Fund must be valued at least once every Business Day except during the Fund's initial offer period. However, the Target Fund in which the Fund invests in performs its valuation for its relevant business day on the day following its relevant business day.

Accordingly, the valuation of the Fund for the relevant Business Day will be conducted before 5.00 p.m. on the following day in which the Manager is open for business, when the valuation of the Target Fund would have been obtained from Fidelity Singapore.
As such, the daily price of the Fund for a particular Business Day will not be published in the newspaper on the next day but will instead be published the next following day (i.e. price will be two (2) days old). This will be specifically indicated in the newspapers.

Investors may however obtain the most current computed price by contacting the Manager directly or visiting our website, http://www.rhbgroup.com.

In undertaking any of the Fund's investments, the Manager will ensure that all the assets of the Fund will be valued appropriately, that is, at market value, failing which, such assets will be valued at fair value and at all times in compliance with the relevant laws (including approved accounting standards).

Accordingly:

(i) The shares of the Target Fund, will be valued by reference to the manager's last published repurchase price of a share of the Target Fund for the relevant Business Day.

(ii) Financial derivatives positions will be marked-to-market at the close of each trading day.

(iii) Placements of Cash will be valued each day by reference to the principal value of such investments and the interest/profits accrued thereon for the relevant period.

(iv) Money market instruments will be valued each day based on the accretion of discount or amortisation of premium or on a yield to maturity basis.

(v) Foreign exchange translation of investments not denominated in the base currency of the Fund into RM (i.e. the base currency of the Fund) for a particular Business Day is determined based on bid rate quoted by Bloomberg at 4:00 p.m. (United Kingdom time) or such other time as may be prescribed from time to time by the relevant governing body or authority.

9. POLICY ON REBATES AND SOFT COMMISSION

Any rebate on brokerage fees or shared commissions is to be credited into the accounts of the Fund. Goods and services ("soft commission") received are retained by the Manager or its delegate only if the goods and services are of demonstrable benefit to the Unit Holders such as research materials and computer software incidental to the investment management of the Fund.

LOAN FINANCING RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

Investing in an investment scheme with borrowed money is more risky than investing with your own savings. You should assess if loan financing is suitable for you in light of your objectives, attitude to risk and financing circumstances. You should be aware of the risk, which would include the following:-

(i) The higher the margin of financing (that is, the amount of money you borrow for every Ringgit of your own money that you put in as deposit or down payment) the greater the loss or gain on your investment.

(ii) You should assess whether you have the ability to service the repayments on the proposed loan. If your loan is a variable rate loan, and if interest rates rise, your total repayment amount will be increased.

(iii) If unit prices fall beyond a certain level, you may be asked to provide additional acceptable collateral (where units are used as collateral) or pay additional amounts on top of your normal instalments. If you fail to comply within the prescribed time, your units may be sold towards the settlement of your loan.

(iv) Returns on investment are not guaranteed and may not be earned evenly over time. This means that there may be some years where returns are high and other years where losses are incurred instead. Whether you eventually realise a gain or incur loss may be affected by the timing of the sale of your units. The value of units may fall just when you want your money back even though the investment may have done well in the past.

This brief statement cannot disclose all the risks and other aspects of loan financing. You should therefore carefully study the terms and conditions before you decide to take the loan. If you have doubts in respect of any aspect of this Risk Disclosure Statement or the terms of the loan financing, you should consult the institution offering the loan.
